A guide to the videos.

If possible, watch the videos on a computer, or a phone or laptop other that the one you're using to make your animations - then you can refer to the videos step by step as you go.

If you need to watch the videos on the same device you'll be using to make your movies, then I'd suggest you do this:

1) Watch each video right through without following along.
2) Then begin following along but switch back and forth between the videos and the Stop Motion Studio app when you need to see the next step.

See "Switch between recent apps" on this page for Android devices:
